THE DEATH OF THE CZAR. The Liverpool Northern Times of the

'The first intimation we received of the indisposition of the Czar reached 1 o'clock yesterday. It represented that at a late hour on Tuesday night the roy. al physicians gave no hopes of the Emperor's recovery. The news of the det ceased's death, which took place at 1 o'clock on Friday morning, was announced immediately on the meeting of the House of Lords; and the lords deemed the intelligence sufficiently authentic to justify an adjournment at the request of Lord Clarendon. "Whether this unlooked-forevent will facilitate the negotiation for peace now pending at the Austrian capital, it is impossible to say; but if the Emperor Alexander is as strongly inclined to peace as we have been led to believe, we think it is not unlikely that the Vienna conference may realize our best anticipations. The sudden removal of the deceased monarch from this world's troubled stage and ever-varying scenes may well be held up as a solemn admonition to the vain glorious and ambitious rulers of the earth. Respectfulty presents his acknowledge, ments to those who have heretofore expenses which the results in the skill and experience of his him to obtain, will merit a continuance of their favorand when patronage of all those desiring services in his profession. In justification, he would but call attention to the numerous full and part sets of artificial teath which he has inserted in this vicinity—the beauty, utility, and life-like Appearance of which he faiters himself cannot be excelled. The difficulty heretofore experienced by the profession, in thing full sets so that they may be useful sud comfortable, he has overcome at the expense of no inconsiderable perseverance and experiment. Those who are in need of such may rest asausted that they can be furnished with these useful organs that will enable them to masticate their food with the facility experienced only by those who have good Teeth. All other operations in the department of Dentistry, performed in a manuer that experience and care alone will enable one to do. Terms invariably casts when he work is com-pleted.
